[REDACTED]

1. A further step in the Austrian Socialist Party's efforts to regain a leading position in international labor circles is the future conclave of Danubian Socialist Parties in Prague. The date has not yet been announced. [REDACTED] Comment: [REDACTED] Para. 6, reported plans for a meeting of Austrian, Czechoslovak, Hungarian, Yugoslav, Romanian, and Bulgarian Socialists in Prague sometime in November or December 1946.)

2. Document Secretary State Secretary Franz Rauchner recently returned from Prague, where he discussed with Czechoslovak Government officials means of synchronizing the efforts of Czechoslovakia and Austria to nationalize industries in order to avoid unnecessary competition and misguided investments.

3. 25X1A2g At the Austrian Socialist Party convention to be held at Vienna on 15-17 November 1946, the leaders expect to retain a hold on the party. [REDACTED] Comment: See [REDACTED] Para. 5, for expectation of a crisis within the party at this convention.) General Julius Deutsch is now working out resolutions for presentation at this convention, including the following:

- a. Criticism of Minister of the Interior Oskar Holmer's failure to keep "Austro-Fascists" out of the police force. ([REDACTED] Comment: See [REDACTED] Para. 5.)
- b. The Government's indecision in pushing the nationalization law. However, Rauchner is not to be attacked personally.
- c. The drafting of Karl Waldbrunner either for the position of party spokesman on economic matters or for president of the Austrian State Railways. ([REDACTED] Comment: [REDACTED] Para. 3, 25X1A2g reported that Waldbrunner would resign as envoy to Moscow and might be employed in coordinating economic affairs for the Socialist Party.)
- d. The possible removal of Minister of Food Dr. Hans Fronzel. As a result of the recent increase in rations, this is now feasible without too much loss of face for Fronzel. ([REDACTED] Comment: Fronzel's immediate removal was stopped at the last minute by the trade unions, whose man he is.) (Washington Comment: See [REDACTED] Para. 5.)
